Dangers of Defective Plumbing.

Defective plumbing permits the entrance into the house of sewer gas bearing germs of contagious diseases to which the human system readily succumbs.

Sewer gas is not necessarily generated in the sewer, but is frequently created in the plumbing system within the home and enters the apartments through defective fixtures.

If in doubt, consult us regarding the piping and replacing defective fixtures with "Standard" Porcelain Enameled Ware—acknowledged as the best sanitary equipment.

FORBES MANUFACTURING CO., (Incorporated.)

CIRCUIT COURT HAS BEGUN.

Grand Jury Made Up and Petit Jurors will be Selected this Morning.

A HEAVY DOCKET.

Several Murder Cases and a Large Number of Divorce Petitions.

Circuit Court convened here yesterday for a six weeks' session. The grand jury is as follows: W. A. Glass, Foreman; W. H. Elgin, W. H. Anderson, W. T. Davis, Leslie Butler, Charlie Beryl, John J. McCallie, John W. Deason, Howard Brane, James McKinney, P. H. Adcock, and C. R. Bouldin. The petit juries will be made up this morning.

There are nearly 500 cases on the docket, including five murder cases. There are also a large number of divorce suits, a majority of them brought by colored people.

There are twenty-two people confined in the county jail and the present grand jury will investigate the charges against these whose cases have not been disposed of.

The case of James Courtney, under an indictment charging him with the killing of John Davis, his father-in-law, is set for the fourth day of the term. The case of Ed Moseley, col., one of the Pembroke negroes, charged with complicity in the murder of an unknown man Nov. 14, 1903, is set for the 3rd day. The case of Geo. Johnson, col., charged with murder, is set for the 4th day of the term; Ed Greenwade, col., similar charge, is set for the fifth day, and A. Lisanby, col., charged with murder, is set for the 7th day of the term.

The session promises to be a very busy one. The docket is as follows: Commonwealth, 98; new equity, 75; continued equity, 222; common law appearances, 45; continued common law, 46; appeals, 14.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of An Aged and Well Known Citizen.

Mr. J. D. Underwood died suddenly Saturday at his home 8 miles Northeast of the city. He spent the day here and appeared to be in his usual health. Shortly after retiring he was heard to groan, as if in great pain, and when one of his sons, who slept in an adjoining room, got to his bedside he found his father dead. Mr. Underwood was 72 years old and a well known citizen. He was a member of the Christian church. Three sons and one daughter survive. The interment took place in the Boyd burying ground at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

DEATH OF MRS. MCGEE.

Good Woman Passed Away After Long Illness.

Mrs. Eliza McGee widow of Sam'l McGee, died Sunday evening, near Howell, after an illness of three months, of consumption. She was about 45 years old and a member of the Methodist church. Deceased is survived by three children, one son and two daughters. The body was laid to rest in the family burying ground, near Bennetts town, yesterday afternoon.

Capt. Cherry Out Again.

Conductor S. A. Cherry, who was injured in the wreck on the Illinois Central road near Chapmanboro, Tenn., about two weeks ago, has so far recovered as to be able to be out. He is still in Nashville, but expects to resume his run between that city and Evansville some time this week.

MORE ABOUT MAYFIELD ROAD

Col. Landrum in Frankfort Getting Encouragement For the Road.

TO HOPKINSVILLE FIRST

We Are On a Direct Line From River to Ocean—Survey Made.

Mr. John W. Landrum seems to be in dead earnest about the Cairo and Cumberland Gap Railroad. He was in Frankfort last week and the following is taken from Saturday's Courier Journal:

Railroad for Western Ky.

John W. Landrum, of Mayfield, has spent two days in Frankfort, getting signatures to a petition to L. W. Goode to push the Cairo and Tennessee river railroad to completion. He has secured the names of practically all of the State officials, headed by Gov. Beckham, assuring Mr. Goode of the State's interest in the project. Mr. Goode is a Virginian and a nephew of ex-Gov. Lowry, of Mississippi. He has become interested in a project that has hung fire for fifteen years, but which Mr. Landrum now says bids fair to be realized. The road, as projected, runs from Cairo, Ill., to Norfolk, Va., passing through Allen, Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle, Christian, Clinton, Graves, Logan, Marshall, Monroe, Simpson, Todd, Trigg, Wayne and Whitley counties, and follows a survey secured by B. A. Neale, of Mayfield, some fifteen years ago, when Kentucky and Tennessee granted charters to the company. Mr. Landrum said the road was Neale's life dream. If the project goes through most of the credit for it will be due to Mr. Neale's persistence and abiding faith.

It is believed that within the next year the road will be built through Mayfield to Hopkinsville, at least. The proposed line, it is said, is 167 miles shorter to Newport News than any other of three proposed lines.

ATHENAEUM MEETING.

Three Papers On Thursday Night's Program.

The March meeting of the Athenaeum will be held at Hotel Latham Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Those who are on the program for papers are Messrs. John C. Duffy and Joe McCarroll and Dr. R. F. McDaniel.

The Colonel Doubly Happy.

Rev. H. C. McGill, of Howell, was made happy last week by his wife, nee Miss Thursa Lowry, presenting him with a fine girl. Mr. T. B. Caldwell is also wearing a broad smile over the arrival of a daughter at his house a few days ago. Mrs. Caldwell was formerly Miss Pauline Lowry, she and Mrs. McGill being sisters, and daughters of Col. S. J. Lowry, one of the leading citizens of South Christian.

Judge Ward Dead.

R. K. Ward, of this city, was called to Paris, Tenn., yesterday by the announcement of the death of his father, Judge Ward, of that place. Deceased was about 70 years old, and his death was from kidney troubles. He was taken suddenly ill a week ago, and his son, who had been at Paris several days, returned home Sunday night.

In Louisville.

Miss Katie McDaniel went to Louisville yesterday to attend the Superintendents' Department of the National Educational Association which convenes in that city to-day and remains in session three days. Prof. Hamlett, of the city schools, will also attend.

LADIES' SHIRTWAIST

Pattern No. 5526.—This exceptionally attractive shirtwaist was developed in cleavage pouge. A design in hand embroidery is worked in heavy silk on the apron in front, but face or any preferred mode of trimming may be used instead. Narrow tucks at each side of the front allow becoming fullness, while those at the back extend down to waist line at each side of the closing. Taffeta, linen, mohair and abtross will all make up effectively after this pattern. The medium size will require 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch material. Sizes 17, 22, 24, 26, 28, 40 and 42-inch bust measure.

This pattern will be sent to you on receipt of 10 cents. Address all orders to the Pattern Department of this paper. Be sure to give size and number of pattern wanted. For convenience, write your order on the following coupon:

LADIES' COSTUME.

Patterns Nos. 5571 and 5589.—This charming toilette was constructed of tan-colored Henrietta combined with eucra lace. The waist closes in the back and a fitted lining serves as a support for the blouse, which is of eucra. The outside portion is of the material, small buttons provide the decoration. The blue-colored skirt is a very stylish model which is laid in clusters of pleats and fits the hips smoothly. Silk, cashmere, nun's veiling, collene and broadcloth are all adaptable. The medium size will require 1 1/2 yards of 44-inch material for the waist and 5 1/2 yards for the skirt. Sizes: Waist No. 5571: Sizes for 32, 34, 36, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Skirt in short or short round length waist. Sizes for 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30-inch waist measure.

The above illustration calls for two separate patterns. The price is ten cents for the waist and ten cents for the skirt.

This pattern will be sent to you on receipt of 10 cents. Address all orders to the Pattern Department of this paper. Be sure to give size and number of pattern wanted. For convenience, write your order on the following coupon:

USE EXPLOSIVE HARPOON.

This Weapon Explodes Within Body of the Whale and Capture of Leviathan Made Easy.

The harpoon, which is the modern whale hunter's chief reliance, is a truly murderous weapon, six feet in length and strong in proportion, made chiefly of malleable iron, and admirably designed for the slaying of the immense creatures, according to the Technical World. Its most striking feature, next to the bomb-head, which is operated by a time-fuse and explodes in the vitals of the whale, is the anchor-like device which prevents the harpoon "drawing" out of the body again under the terrible strain of the monster's frantic efforts to free itself. This consists of four hinged barbs, which lie along the shaft before it is fired, but which are forced apart and imbed themselves in the whale's body after he is hit, so that if the prize escapes—which sometimes occurs—it is only by breaking the rope.

When "fish" are numerous and there is a chance of killing more than one in a day, a novel method is adopted with the first victim. When it is seen to be dead, a hole is bored through its back into its stomach and air is pumped into it by a pipe from the steamer's engines, until it is inflated like a great balloon. The orifice is then closed with a wooden plug; and a man is left alongside in a small boat to establish ownership while the whaler steams off in quest of other prey. As many as two whales have been killed by a ship in one day; four is not an unusual "bag"; and three and two are commonly secured. A single ship killed 22 in a week; and the record year's work for one is 258—an amazing number when it is remembered that on stormy days it is impossible to cruise at all, and the sprays bury the gun; and that during the winter months fishing is abandoned. During that period the whales "strike off" the coast to escape the ice floes, to which the torpedos are not partial, being in this respect unlike the dead-end of the harpoon, whose habitat is now the remotest section of Hudson's Bay and the channels which strike north from its farthest bounds into the Polar sea itself.

MAYOR'S TEST.

Building Emptied of 1,000 People in 4 1/2 Minutes.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 19. During the performance of the "Winter Storm" at the opera house, the Winkler appeared on the stage and announced that he was going to make a test and see how quickly the house could be cleared in case of fire. He asked those present to get out as quickly as possible after the termination of the play. There were nearly 1,000 people in the house, a test was emptied in exactly four and one-half minutes.

Paducah's Step Forward.

The people of Paducah are beginning a campaign for the issue of bonds for the purpose of building an electric light plant and water works. It is said that ninety out of every hundred persons are signing the petition to the council to order an election. Owensboro's experience with her electric light plant demonstrates the wisdom of the Paducah people in their desire. This plant has been excellently administered. It furnishes remarkably cheap lights and is self sustaining. The commercial current furnished pays the operating expenses of the plant and turns a surplus into the treasury, while no account is made of the 275 street lights. If these were counted at the rate at which they are furnished in other places by corporations the entire plant would show a profit on the investment. Owensboro's water works are yet in the future so far as service is concerned, but it is believed that they will show the same result. Inquirer.

The March Delineator.

In the March number The Delineator has fallen under the spell of romance which the forthcoming marriage of the President's daughter has evoked, and presents as its leading feature an article on "The Brides of the White House," illustrated with a handsome portrait of Miss Roosevelt never before published. The fiction of the number includes a short story by Mary Stewart Cutting, a clever study of child life by Virginia Woodward Ward, and the continuation of "The President of Quex," Helen M. Winslow's interesting child story. Viola Allen, the popular young actress, who recently married a southern millionaire, writes of Shakespeare's heroines from the point of view of one who has personated many of them with great success. Dr. Murray concludes his series on "The Rights of the Child" with a paper on growth and development; and a unique feature beginning in this number is "The Houses of Correspondence," the first being the Doctor's House. Stories and pastimes are supplied for the amusement of children, and in the other departments many topics of interest and value to the home are treated. Fashion of course, plays a large part in this number, and the newest styles are illustrated and described in detail.

How to Prevent Bilious Attacks.

One who is subject to bilious attacks will notice that for a day or more before the attack he is not hungry, at meal times and feels dull after eating. SAVED BY A DOG.

Rat Terrier Makes Legislature Ashamed of Dog Tax.

Benton, Ky., Feb. 21.—To the intelligence of a tiny rat terrier do the guests of the Central hotel at Benton, which was destroyed early Tuesday morning, owe the salvation of their clothes, and, perhaps their lives. The fire broke out in the rear of the hotel about 1:30 o'clock, and the little dog, which was sleeping in the hallway, ran to the door of his master's room and set up a howl that awoke the sleeping proprietors in time for him to notify his guests and save all their baggage.

The fire, which was the second that has visited Benton in the past few months and destroyed the hotel and a large wagon warehouse of Green Bros.

PROCLAMATION.

Official Order for Vote On Anti-Cow Ordinance, March 13.

Whereas, in an order of the Board of Health of the city of Hopkinsville, passed on the evening of Feb. 19th, and which is hereby called in, and seven wards of the city of Hopkinsville to decide whether or not milk cows shall be permitted to run at large in the city of Hopkinsville, the present stock ordinance contains a provision, which reads as follows:

"Provided, however, that the owner of any milk cow, which is a quiet and peaceful disposition, and is in no sense vicious or roughish, may have such milk cow in giving milk for family use, turn such milk cow upon the public streets, alleys or commons of said city between the hours of sunrise and sunset in the day time."

The qualified voters of the several wards will be given an opportunity to vote for the repeal of this provision, which will make it unlawful for live stock of any kind to run upon the streets. The election will be by secret ballot, but not under the operation of the regular election laws. A ballot will be printed in the form below:

Are you in favor of an ordinance prohibiting milk cows from running at large in Hopkinsville? YES. ☐ NO. ☐

This ballot will be handed to each voter, who will mark with a pencil in the small square opposite "yes" or "no," fold the ballot and return it to one of the judges, who will deposit it in a box which shall be locked at 8 o'clock and not be opened until 4 o'clock. A majority of the votes cast and counted shall determine the will of the ward, and if four of the seven wards vote in favor of the proposed ordinance, the council will pass it at its meeting March 13, to take effect not later than 30 days from that time.

The several wards shall vote at the following places:

First Ward—City court room.
Second Ward—Moynoy's Hall.
Third Ward—Latham Warehouse.
Fourth Ward—Cor. 7th and R. R.
Fifth Ward—Livery stable, Main St., bet. 4th & 5th.
Sixth Ward—Foulks' coal office.
Seventh Ward—Livery stable, 7th and Elm streets.

The polls shall be opened Tuesday, March 13th, promptly at 8 o'clock, and closed at 4 o'clock p. m., city time. The officers shall, as soon as the polls close, open the boxes and count the votes, in the presence of at least one representative of each side, make a certificate of the result and deliver the ballot box and the certificate to the city clerk at his office, corner Fifth and Main streets, not later than 5 o'clock p. m.

The officers to conduct said elections shall be two judges and a clerk to be appointed by the mayor on or before the 10th day of March. Both sides will be represented in the appointment of the officers. Each side is requested to furnish to the mayor on or before March 9th a list of at least three persons in each ward who will serve as election officers without expense to the city.

By order of the council,
CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Mayor.

Common Colds are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis, and all throat and lung trouble are aggravated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or save any chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug and has thirty years of reputation for its safety. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler. Itch—Ringworm!

E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes, April 10, 1902: "I have been afflicted with a malady known as the 'itch.' The itching was most unbearable. I had tried for years to find relief, but having tried all remedies I could hear of, beside a number of doctors, I wish to state that one single application of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permanently. Since then I have used the Liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and cured completely. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Cook & Higgins.

Lame Back

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the parts vigorously as such application. If this does not afford relief, bind on a piece of soft flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow. For sale by L. L. Health Means the ability to do a good day's work, without undue fatigue and to find life worth living. You cannot have indigestion or constipation without its upsetting the liver and polluting the blood. Such a condition may be best and quickest relieved by Herbol's Liver and Bowel Regulator, the world has ever known. Mrs. D. W. Smith, writes, April 3, '02: "I use Herbol and find it the best medicine for constipation and regulating the liver I ever used. 50c. Sold by Cook & Higgins.

Croup

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup (the child will cry for it), and at the termination of a croupy cough apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment to the throat.

Mrs. A. Vliet, New Castle, Colo., writes, March 18, 1902: "I think Ballard's Horehound Syrup a wonderful remedy, and so pleasant to take. Sold by Cook & Higgins.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given it soon as first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to their own children with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler. A Combination of Good Looks

And Durability!

That's what our Harness is--smart looking, full of style and strong in quality and workmanship. It's the kind that can be depended on when the horse jumps or plunges. The selling of Harness is not a "Department" of our business--it's part of it. Do you catch the distinction? Whether for work or for pleasure, heavy or light, single or double, we have it and the fixings that go with it.

The price of hides and leather is soaring every day. Tanners and harness manufacturers are out of breath trying to catch up before it gets entirely out of sight. Most harness users will pay a big advance in price this year. We bought our stock when prices began to jump. Consequently there's a notable difference between our prices and those quoted elsewhere--and it's in your favor. The stock won't last long. At our prices it's too good a thing to escape the wide-awakers. Better drop in before the game is over.

WeeMacgregor on the Pier

By J. J. BELL

(Copyright 1905 by Joseph J. Bell.)

"Hee! Macgregor, ye're gae too quick for me," gasped Mr. Purdie, as the youngster whose hand he held hurried along the Battery Esplanade in the early afternoon sunshine.

"I could go quicker, granpaw!" "Deed, ay! Ye're young an' supple! But the boat 'll not be in for more than half an hour. So we'll just take a seat for a wee. I'm gettin' old, Macgregor, I'm gettin' old."

"Ay, ye're very old," said Macgregor, agreeably.

"But I'm not that old," said Mr. Purdie, hastily.

They took a seat facing the bay. Macgregor proceeded to haul in a tin steambot which he had been dragging after him since they started on their walk, while his grandfather drew from the case a well-seasoned meerschaum.

"I see a boat comin'," exclaimed Macgregor, as they had been seated for five minutes.

"Where? Oh, ay. But that's not the right boat. Wait till ye see a boat wif yellow funnels."

"I like red funnels better than yellow ones. Why is maw comin' in a boat wif yellow funnels?"

"Ye maw disna like the water, an' the boats wif yellow funnels don't come so far as the boats wif red funnels. Here! Put this in your mouth."

"I like peppermint lozenges," observed Macgregor, drawing in his breath to get the full effect. "I like lemonade also," he added, presently.

"Are ye dry?"

"Ay."

"Well, ye'll maybe get a bottle before we go to the pier. What have ye been doin' to yer steambot? It's all smashed--see!"

"A laddie stepped on it," said Macgregor, looking up his toy. "But the string went round his leg an' cut him an' he went away weepin'. Why is there not a band?" he inquired, looking round at the bandstand.

"It's not the season yet."

"Why isn't it the season? I like a band wif a big drum. Will there be a band in the morning, granpaw?"

"No, no. Not till the summer. If my cough's no better I'll maybe bide in Rothsay till the summer, and then ye'll come back an' stay wif yer granpaw an' me, an' hear the band."

"Ay, it's very bad at night, Macgregor."

"I once had an awful bad cough," said Macgregor, thoughtfully. "I told ye if ye was takin' oil ye might be better before the summer, granpaw."

Mr. Purdie smiled. "Would ye like my cough to be better before the summer, Macgregor?"

"Ay, I--I would like to bide in Rothsay, too."

"I'm thinkin' I'll try the oil, Macgregor."

"It's real nasty to take. But it might make yer cough better before the summer. . . . Rothsay's a nice place, isn't it? . . . I'm comin' out to look at the water."

Macgregor slipped off the seat, and dragging his steambot behind him, went over to the railings of the esplanade.

"Ye're not to climb up," cried Mr. Purdie, rising in alarm. "If ye was fellin' in there ye would be drowned."

"There's an awful lot of water to-day," remarked the boy, as his grandfather put an arm round him.

"Ay, ye see, the tide's in."

"I'm goin' to sail my boat now."

"Ye can't sail it there."

"Ye can't sail it there."

"Dinna cry, laddie," said Mr. Purdie, at last.

"I'm not cryin'," returned Macgregor, rubbing his eyes with his sleeve and sniffing violently. "There's no provocation the trouble which had befallen his steambot."

"Well," he began, and stopped, stricken dumb by the distress in the old face.

"Macgregor," said Mr. Purdie, taking out a shabby purse, "ye'll maybe see ye lost when the tide goes out. I'll tell the man over yonder to keep his eye on it. An'--an' ye're no to cry."

"I'm no cryin', granpaw."

"Well, I'm real vexed for ye. An' I would not like ye to be meelin' yer maw with such a long face. There's a sennice, Macgregor. Just run over to the shops an' buy sayin' ye has a fancy for, an' I'll wait for ye here. Having thus delivered himself, Mr. Purdie heaved a big sigh and looked once more at the wreckage at his feet. The meerschaum had been a presentation, and he had valued it exceedingly.

"It was gettin' old like himsel', but it wasna near done for yet," had been the substance of a frequent remark of his friends to him during the last five or six years. And now--now it was done for."

"Are ye not goin' to the shops?" he asked his grandson, who was still looking at the sennice.

"Ay, I'm goin'," said Macgregor. "Thank ye, granpaw," he added, remembering for once his mother's good instructions. And, his small visage wreathed in smiles of joyful anticipation, he ran off.

Mr. Purdie saw him disappear into a fancy goods emporium, and then stooped down and gathered the fragments of his pipe into a large red handkerchief, which he carefully deposited in a side pocket of his coat. After that he marked the place where Macgregor's toy had sunk, and toddled along to tell the nearest boat-hirer to look out for the wreck at low water. He was beginning to get anxious when Macgregor reappeared, jubilant, dragging behind him a clattering object.

"It's not a boat," said Macgregor, smiling. "It's a boat."

"A boat?"

"Ay, granpaw. An aggliator."

"A what?"

"Aggliator! That's what the wife in the shop said it was. Look at its teeth! It can swim, but I'm not goin' to put it in the sea."

Mr. Purdie examined the new purchase. "Oh, I see," he said, at last. "It's a crocodile, granpaw."

"Naw, it's not a crocodile, granpaw, it's an aggliator."

"Well, well, it's a queer-like thing to buy anyway; but if ye're pleased with it, that's all there is about it. Now, it's time we was goin' to meet yer maw."

Macgregor gave his disengaged hand to his grandfather, and they proceeded

THE CHURCH
ROLL CALL.

At the Christian Church Last Night.

Last Sunday was a great day with the members of the Christian church. The names of the members were called and by Rev. H. D. Smith and many responded either by reading selections from the Scriptures or making some apt remarks. A splendid musical program was observed and the large audience room was crowded to its utmost capacity. Altogether the afternoon was highly enjoyable.

PULLED A POP

And Punctured a Negro's Leg Saturday Night.

John Benton, col., shot and wounded Luther Gray, col., at the L. & N. depot Saturday night. A freight train was passing and Benton jumped on it and went to Guthrie, where he was arrested by Marshal R. L. Burrows and brought back last night. Gray was hit in the leg and is not seriously hurt. Benton spent several months in the city workhouse last year for fighting.

Telephones By Measure.

To the Editor of the Kentuckian:
I have just received a large sheet, headed "Two Telephone Companies." The East Tennessee Always in the Lead. Stating telephone service should be considered a commodity and measured like corn, and wheat, or any other commodity.
I have been trying to figure out how long I purchased corn, wheat, etc., dealing in futures, when I paid the Cumberland Telephone Company $2 per month for so-called telephone service, measured out to me from about 500 people, and if I wanted to talk to any one in the country not on the Hopkinsville exchange, I measured out from 15c to 25c and then measured out 3 minutes.
I may be a sort of a fool, but I prefer having my telephone service measured by the Home Company.
